Kuala Lumpur Architecture Festival (KLAF 2022)
DATUM:EDU Forum on 30th June 2022
Theme: Architecture Education: Way Forward

Architectural education is in “transitional emergency mode,” with much of learning activities carried out online, resulting in the need to review future teaching. Architecture schools also need to review its aims towards graduating students, whether to just meet the needs of the profession, or, to graduate students who can create opportunities for themselves. Self-learning may encourage self-motivation: to move from passive learning to active learning. While this is difficult, the potential is exciting and may revolutionise education for the better. Let us put our heads together to move education forward for the benefit of future generations.
